

Wetherby office relocated to Victoria Street

The offices comprise of a modern stables conversion in Wetherby town centre. There are 1,340 square feet of modern office space, ground floor private consultation rooms and on site car parking.

The move comes as part of the firm's strategic review of the business to target new business opportunities across West & North Yorkshire.

Senior Partner Peter Kay said "the move and the position of the new offices will give us an opportunity to benefit from established business relationships and take advantage of commercial opportunities that arise in the town centre.

In addition, the quality of the office space and the proximity to the town centre helped the team make the decision to move to this prestigious address".
